INCLUSIONS

This program represents a unique experiential-learning opportunity in an overseas environment. It presents the chance to grow academically, and to be part of a new and vigorous commitment to increase global awareness at Chatham Hall. It is a program of academic and experiential heft, taking place over 12 days in South Africa's Western Cape Province.

Pricing is set at a level designed to defray both academic/program costs and travel costs, as follows:

- Academic program design & delivery. This is an experiential learning opportunity of substance and rigor, tailored specifically to the needs of Chatham Hall, its students, faculty, alumni, and parents.
- Access to an array of in-country partner schools, educators and civil-society activists, wildlife experts and food security advocates, historical and cultural venues, and service project sites, as described in the daily program.
- International airfare from Washington, including taxes and fees, and airfare within South Africa, including taxes and fees.
- International-class hotel accommodation and meals. (Accommodation based on double occupancy.)
- International-class coach transport throughout Cape Town and to/from Aquila Private Game Reserve.
- Local guiding and program management, plus entrance fees to indicated venues.

Travel Insurance: We suggest that participants secure travel insurance. Deposits and final payments are non-refundable. See, for example, www.travelsafe.com.
